

CUSTOMER UPDATE REGARDING JAPAN EARTHQUAKE

To our valued customers,

On Friday, March 11, 2011, a major earthquake sent shockwaves throughout Japan. This greatly impacted the northern region of Japan, and resulted in a tsunami that swept through major cities near its northeastern coastline.

We understand there are many questions and concerns regarding RAMI Technology / Raltron's ability to support our customers in this tragic event. We have been monitoring the situation closely. At this time we would like to report that no product has been affected by shortages of material. We will continue to monitor updates from our suppliers, and notify our customers if the situation changes.

We at RAMI Technology / Raltron would like to extend our heartfelt condolences to all those affected by the devastating earthquake and tsunami. Our thoughts go out to those suffering in its aftermath.

Refer to this page often, as we continue to monitor our suppliers and report on part status in the coming months.

21 March 2011